Fuel Pressure Regulator S Sard Evo 789 350z GTR With Free Gauge

(Please read all before placing any bid.)

PRODUCT FEATURES:

This fuel pressure regulator ensures constant fuel pressure. Low or fluctuating fuel pressure may affect the amount of fuel sent to the injectors, so it's vital that this pressure is kept consistent. Original manufacturers fuel pressure regulators can be swapped for uprated aftermarket versions such as this product in order to improve consistent high fuel pressure for performance applications. This is necessary when a vehicle has been modified and needs more fuel as a result.

Fuel maps inside the standard engine management system can't normally be altered, so increases in fuelling can be achieved by uprating the flow from this awesome fuel pressure regulator. With higher fuel demand, standard fuel regulators can't cope, and fuel pressure peaks and troughs can occur. These regulators are essential for the high demands of a performance tuned engines. Regulators regulates fuel with far greater accuracy than original regulators which may fluctuate under pressure.

The regulators deliver fuel with an incredibly stable linear progression. Suitable for 'fast road' use as well as more serious track day and race vehicles. Suitable for both turbo-charged and naturally aspirated performance cars, and especially those using high flow aftermarket fuel injectors.

These adjustable fuel regulators for EFI engines are use an extra light weight diaphragm and are equipped with exclusive design parts to provide excellent and stable fuel pressure whilst allowing detailed adjustment. For many vehicle applications this item is simply a direct swap for the standard OE fuel pressure regulator, however depending on your set-up you may need additional parts.
